Albert Sullivan, a coal miner, was killed by a Milwaukee train at Ottumwa. His hand, an arm, and one leg were cut off.

The supreme court of the United States maintains the validity of the Irvin patent, that has been in dispute for some years.

What is regarded as a very significant sign is the constant transmission of large sums of money from Vienna, Berlin and Paris to London for safekeeping. That fact is in itself a more or less sure indication of the diplomatic or even military rumors they telegraph, to be contradicted one day and repeated the next.

The Pennsylvania legislature has abolished the state tax on watches, jewelry, and personal carriages. There, as elsewhere, the assessment of this tax has been unequal. Much of this classes of property has escaped taxation, and the people committed in valuing it is enough in volume to sink a nation.

Mr. Edward Atkinson says, and proves it, that "at the present time the average rate of wages in the United States is nearly every article which is sold for more than its cost, with very few exceptions, than at the same period of paper money inflation in 1853-5 and 7."

Dr. Holliday, a Presbyterian preacher of St. Louis, is going for the cure of his wife, who is suffering from a severe case of rheumatism. He is neither Christian nor scientist, but holds two different but equally false theories.

Judge Hoadly writes to the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette that he could not accept an appointment to the vacancy in the supreme court, because he thinks a southern man should be appointed. The south has no representatives on the bench at present and it seems to be conceded that he should have the appointment.

The immigration to California during the past year is reported to have amounted to about 100,000 persons. Southern California got most of them, and it is estimated that the money spent in advertising that section has returned, multiplied by 1,000. It is a good sanitarium but not the best for people who have to make a living by the sweat of their brows. Other sections farther north are much better.

Buffalo Bill's wild west show in London is all the rage among the amusement seekers. Queen Victoria and the leading members of the aristocracy have attended the exhibition and that of itself is sufficient to set the public current in that direction. Everybody who visits London goes to the show, and Americans, who would not take the trouble to see it here, are filled with enthusiasm, and American newspapers fill columns with descriptions of it.

Lieut. John J. Shaw, U. S. A., obtained pay nineteen times on the same voucher, and then disappeared. He wrote from London, tendering his resignation, but the secretary of war considering all the circumstances of the case, declined to accept the resignation, and ordered Mr. Shaw's name to be dropped from the pay register, knowing the certainty of detection and disgrace, it is a matter of surprise that any officer could be guilty of such an offense and yet escape frequently reported.

Attorney General Garland announced that he would not accept an appointment of justice of the supreme court, and says that the president was informed more than a year ago that he had determined to retire from public life and public life at the end of his term as attorney-general. So this element is eliminated from discussion. Mr. Garland, in addition to the condition of his health, uttered one sentiment that will meet with general approval. He feels that "the public service that, as a general rule, and other things being equal, one who makes the performance of the duties of supreme justice should have a fair and reasonable prospect of twenty years of active labor, before reaching the age named by the law for retiring."

In the last four months there have been no less than three hundred and fifty new banks formed in the United States. It almost seems that the profitable limit in this business must be reached before long. Yet there are few or no signs that it is near at hand, nor is it likely to be reached so long as money finds ready business at reasonable good rates. About fifty of these new banks have been organized under the national system. This is reassuring in view of the fact that the banks have been established in the national banks are likely to be rapidly diminished by the payment of the public debt. Whatever may be the case in the large cities, it is apparently an object for the smaller national banks to replace the 3 per cent. with costlier bonds. Every dollar of note circulation brings in an interest revenue (including the 4 per cent. bond interest) of 6 to 8 per cent. net. Many banks, therefore, will find it to their advantage not to reject this additional gain, even if they have to pay 25 per cent. premium for their basal security. While this rate of profit can be kept up the calling in of bonds may considerably trouble the national bank system, but it cannot entirely overthrow it.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

Our Relations With Canada.

The New York World prints interviews with prominent men of Canada, concerning commercial union with the United States, that are not without interest. Several of the representatives, banking, farming, insurance, and other interests, are in favor of a commercial union. The sentiment among the farmers is practically a unit in favor. There is a strong sentiment with the dominion government of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and in the Northwest. Premier Macdonald says:

Annexation is out of the question. The duty on agricultural implements, as they are imported from the United States, is not a matter of course. The duty on these implements, that latterly Manitoba and the Northwest have been supplied with all agricultural implements by Canadian manufacturers cheaper than they can purchase from the United States. I don't think it is in the interest of the United States to be looked upon with favor in their country.

HOME AND COUNTY NEWS.

Farmers Cry for rain.

Cool nights.

A busy day, Saturday.

Too dry for garden sows.

Court convened yesterday.

A slight shower Monday night.

A fire was comfortable on Monday.

Devotion day was duly observed in Chaska this year.

Our Merchants are having a large trade.

Our Merchants, and business men generally, should advertise in the HERALD.

P. H. Finnegan received another car load of Advance threshers last week.

For a choice roast and extra tender joint steaks, call at Gehl's Shop, Chaska.

The Band stood in the village Park, has been moved to the center of the same.

Remember the grand Steamboat Excursion to the new city of South St. Paul, on Sunday, the 5th of June.

It looked like War times to see the "boys in blue" march through out streets on Decoration day.

Round trip tickets for the Steamboat Excursion next Sunday, only $1.00.

The Band Ball on Monday evening was very poorly attended.

The Music was extra good, and should have commanded a full hall.

Our Village has been crowded with people from the country this week. Its tax paying time, you know.

Remember the Steam boat Excursion to the new city of South St. Paul, next Sunday. It will be a grand ride.

Attorney Odell will erect a handsome picket fence around his residence in the near future.

This term of the District Court brings lots of people from the country into town. The Rail road right of way cases are the magnet.

Over 10,000 bushels of wheat was marketed in Chaska in the past two weeks. There is very little left in the neighborhood now.

The last issue of the Minn-Tonka Minnow, says that William Sarver is building a fine large barn and an addition to his house in Cham-hassen.

We added a number of new subscribers to our list from Young America, Cologne and Chaska, last week. We thank our friends for the same.

Decoration day services, presented many from attending the funeral of Ida Weggo, who would otherwise have attended. It was a very large funeral nevertheless.

Frank Miesler Jr., has moved to Minneapolis and will make that his home hereafter. Peter Broners will reside in St. Paul. He is at work in the Omaha shops.

Sheriff DuToit replenished about 900 bushels of wheat from the Meador Elevator, which farmers had in the same on Tuesday.

Meador Elevators have passed into other hands.

It is claimed the Milwaukee Binder will scoop any other Binder made for good work, durability and lightness of draft. Call on P. H. Finnegan, agent, Chaska and Carver, and see for your selves.

The fair last Saturday was the boss one of the year. Our village was literally crowded with people, teams and stock. Over 100 head of stock changed hands, bringing good prices. A large number of calves and pigs were sold, in fact there seemed to be a demand for every thing the farmer brought in for sale. Every body went home happy.

A. G. Lano, has gone into the Mercantile business at South Haven, Wright County, a new station on the Minneapolis & Northern Railroad. He has been appointed Post master there, and he thinks he has struck a good place.

Our Cologne readers should remember and call on John Streukens, when in want of anything in the Boot and Shoe line; also on Mohrbecher & Meuwissen dealers in dry goods, groceries, notions and clothing. They are both generous dealers and worthy of public patronage.

At the residence of the bride's parents on Monday, May 23d, Mr. Val Kill of Arlington and Miss Mary Effertz of Norwood were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Father Kuehl officiating.

Mr. Kill and his happy bride arrived here Monday evening on the 9 o'clock train and proceeded immediately to the Arlington house. After supper the boys repaired to the hotel armed with every conceivable musical instrument that could be obtained and tendered him a rousing charivari which brought forth the bride and groom. After the usual salutations the crowd dispersed wishing them a prosperous and happy life, in which the ENTERPRISE heartily joins.—Arlington Enterprise.

We are pleased to learn that our village Council, refused to license "prize package" and "candy package" swindlers last Saturday.

We can dispense with all revenue coming from that source.

We had the pleasure of listening to a rehearsal of instrumental and vocal music by Miss E. T. Smith's class on Saturday Evening, at Mr. Streukens residence. The music was of a very high order, being highly creditable to both, Teacher and Scholars.

A daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Andrew Kunshak of this village, aged 5 months, was buried from the Catholic Church, on Friday afternoon. The little sufferer died of cramps.

Mr. & Mrs. K. have the confidence of a large circle of friends in their affliction.

DIED.

At the residence of her parents, in the village of Chaska, on Saturday, May 25th 1887, Eva, daughter of Peter and Anna Weggo, aged 20 years 10 months and 18 days.

Eva had been sick for several months, and had been a great sufferer, but had, nevertheless, maintained a cheerful disposition throughout her long sickness.

A few days previous to her death, she began feeling better, and at thought that the worst was over, and that she was out of danger, but it proved delusive, and she quietly passed away Saturday afternoon.

Eva was of gentle disposition and a general favorite among her companions, and her loss will leave a void in their ranks that will be felt for many years. The sorrowing parents, sisters and brothers of the departed, have the sympathy of an extended circle of loving friends in their bereavement.

The funeral services took place from the residence of the deceased, the Rev. Mr. Hillman officiating, and the body was buried in the Carver cemetery in Mr. Weggo's family lot. The procession to the grave yard was a very large one.

Personal Gossip.

Old Settlers.

Mr. Editor.—We noticed in your paper of May 26th a list of settlers, and it seems to us you did not remember any of the old settlers of the present town of Dahlgren and vicinity, here are some of them, viz: Jacob Gehrig, Mike and John Preiss, George Guttler, Died, Lenzen, Peter Bontendorf, Herman Miller, The Ruediger family, Albert Walle (the present editor of the Volkszeitung, St. Paul.) William Glitschka, Chas. Luciford, Fred H. Henning, Wm. Freukas, John Bandemir, Philip Siegel, Hans Blocker, Laddie, L. H. Griffin, Peter Nelson, J. D. Skone and others.

Yours &c, F. & M.

Note. In the list of May 26th we only spoke of those whom we remembered to have settled here in the years 1854 and 1855, and did not pretend to give all those who settled here in those years, and we only gave the names of actual residents of the county at the present time.

Waconia Letter.

Ed Valley Herald;

Now that your former correspondent has betaken himself to the land of tempest and fierce raging winds for a season, a word eclogistic of Waconia and its surroundings may interest your numerous readers here. To begin, the weather is dry and farmers are clam-oring for rain. The crops are certainly in need of it and in many places are suffering.

Herman Laetke whom your correspondent reported married in last week's items was some what surprised at the report and wants to have it understood that it was his brother and not he, and that he still enjoys single bliss and that your correspondent should be careful hereafter or—

John Van Krevlin is the happiest man in all Waconia since the arrival of his ten pounder of a son.

Hymen still plays his pranks.
Last Thursday at the Lutheran church, William Lemke of Waconia
and Miss Louise Eszka of Waconia township were married by the Rev.
Mr. Friederick. After the nuptial knot was tied the happy couple repaired to the home of the brides parents, where a sumptuous repast awaited them and the numerous invited guests. Here everything showed enjoyment. Sociability and dancing were the order where youth and beauty met and many a measure was trod until the wee hours of morning, when the guests bid adieu to the happy couple. The bride received numerous and costly presents.

Clearwater Lake with Coney Island and surrounding woods, is admirably adapted by nature to be a center of enjoyment and pleasure.
Combining art with nature, it will be the unrivalled pleasure resort of Minnesota. The natural attractions far exceed those of places more extensively advertised and all it requires is effort to make its superior advantages known to the tourist and health seekers.

Here one desiring relaxation physical and mental, can always find a sequestered spot amidst the sylvan shades of the primal forest, an atmosphere free from malaria and surrounded with ozone and cooling breezes the hottest days of summer.

Captain Remington made a trip around the lake and island, Sunday and passengers enjoyed it immensely.

F. Hennig, of Chaska, called here Sunday enjoying the picturesque scenery of this place.

J. F. Boylan and William Kohler, of Watertown called here Sunday.

All the towns of Carver Co. and Delano were represented here on Sunday.

Mr. Hoffman of this place was married at the Lutheran church, Sunday last Thursday by Rev. Frederick to a young lady, a couple of weeks
over the briny deep.

Death of Frank Gestock.

Frank, eldest son of John Gestock, an old and prominent farmer of Dahlgren, died of Erysipelas or blood poisoning, on Saturday, June 4th 1887, aged 24 or 25 years.

Very few knew of Frank's sickness, and the announcement of his sudden death, was a shock to our community, and caused universal sorrow. He was a young man of generous impulses and a favorite among the young people of that neighborhood. A sad feature of his death, is the fact, that he was to have been married to an estimable young lady on Tuesday.

The parents and relatives of Mr. G., have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their affliction. Their loss is a hard one to bear. The funeral took place in Carver.

Assault Cases.

Word reached us Monday morning, that Michael Hermann and John Trocke, two neighbors and old citizens of Benton, had a personal difficulty while working on the public highway one day last week, and that Mr. Hermann, had had Mr. Trocke arrested for assault.

The complaint was made before Justice Bachmann, and will be tried next week, as soon as County Atty Odell can get away.

A Mr. Harden, who has rented Mr. Joseph Stakens land in Dahlgren, and who resides upon the place with Mr. S., is said to have assaulted and struck him, using a stick, beating him quite badly. The affair has been brewing some time. It happened last week, and an adjournment was taken and will be inquired into this week in Carver.

We also understand that they had a field time of it in Young America last week. Our informant says that Peter Ebsviller and J. P. Croft, had a set to, while C. Ebsviller and Mr. ———— also had a round. It is probably all owing to the extreme dry weather, and a good shower will undoubtedly cool off all the parties.

A Gift for All.

In order to give all a chance to test and thus be convinced of its wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, will be, for a limited time, given away. This offer is not only liberal, but shows an unbounded faith in the merits of this great remedy. All who suffer from Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection, of the throat, chest, or lungs, are especially requested to call at Frank's drug store, and get a Trial Bottle Free. Large bottles $1.

School Pic-Nic.

Last Friday our public school closed with a picnic for the pupils. In the morning, Old Prob. threatened to disappoint the little ones, but notwithstanding the lowering clouds and occasional drops of rain, the scholars formed in line at the school house at half past nine o'clock, and with flags flying, drums beating and children singing they marched through town, and presented such a gay and happy appearance that one could hardly help wishing that he was young again, and we found ourselves repeating poet Whittier's lines, "Oh, for boyhood's time of June, Crowding years in one brief moment."

They marched out to Mr. Brinkhaus's grove where arrangements had been made for their special benefit. Before noon the sun had dispelled the clouds and a perfect picnic day was assured.

In the afternoon the school officers and many other citizens from town went out to see the children enjoy themselves. Games of different kinds were played until late in the afternoon, when all reluctantly wended their way home ward, declaring that they had never before had so good a time at a picnic, and wished that picnics came every day.

A Card of Thanks.

The undersigned take this public method of returning their heartfelt thanks to all those dear friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted them during the illness and death of our daughter, hoping that they may be spared the same affliction for many years to come.

Chaska, June 6th 1887.

BERTHA WEEGO.

Penows Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson. Clay Co. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my house work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain. Try a bottle, only 50c at Frank's drug store.

His Last Request.

Many long years ago John Spork sent an article to one of the leading magazines, which was promptly accepted and paid for. Since that time Spork has bought a magazine every month, in the expectation of seeing his article in print, and has already squandered in this manner a very substantial fortune—but the article has not yet appeared. The other day he sat down and wrote the following letter to the editor of the magazine:

"Mr. Editor—My once princely fortune is squandered in buying copies of your magazine, in the expectation of seeing my article, written sixteen years ago, in the vigor and buoyancy of my youth, published therein. My health is broken; my hopes are blasted; I feel the near approach of death. These are trifles, you may say, but they affect me; and consequently I wish you to heed the request of a dying man. I am 97 years of age, and cannot possibly live another year. At most I can buy but three or four copies more of your magazine, and so you cannot make another dollar by withholding the publication of my article. As a further inducement to publication I will send you the amount of the original check paid for the article, provided it is published before my death.

"Yours respectfully,"

"JOHN SPOK."

Emigration Did It Good.

For several years two little stunted coffee plants led a wretched existence in the botanical gardens at Edinburgh. They would not thrive in spite of all the gardener could do. One day a happy thought struck the curator. He heard that the African Lakes company, that had just three steamboats on Lake Nyassa and the river Shire, was about to start some coffee plantations in Africa. The curator asked the company to give him a few little plants to chance to live in the highlands of the Shire. So they were taken away to the dark continent and transplanted in the deep, rich soil of Mount Zomba.

Too much happiness, or something of the sort, killed one of the little plants. The other, on a new lease of life, struck its roots deep into the red earth, its leaves drank in the congenial air of the African highlands, and at last it burst into berries. The fruit was fine, and it was all carefully saved for food.

While ago photographs were exhibited in Edinburgh of plantations filled with heavily laden coffee trees. They are the gardens of the Buchanan brothers on Mount Zomba, and samples of their coffee are being sold at a high figure on the London markets. Every coffee tree on these plantations is directly traceable to the tiny little plant that could hardly keep alive in Edinburgh. It is said that over 100,000 trees claim direct descent from this little shrub. All it needed was a change to flourish, and when the chance came it proved itself as useful a little coffee tree as could be wished for.—New York Sun.

The Old Time "Back Log."

It will surprise many persons of the present day to be told that the "back log" of which we read so much in old time stories was a large stone, a porous stone being preferred if possible. This stone was buried in the ashes, and on top was placed the "back stick." The back stone in these primitive times played a very important part in the economy of early housekeeping; matches were not then invented; flint, steel and tinder were the only means of lighting a fire or a lamp; and for a moment the "back log" of to-day this engaged with the thermometer ten degrees below zero in the kitchen. The stone, together with the sticks, which it was covered, served to retain fire and heat through the night, and all that was necessary in the morning was to kindle and gentle use of the indispensable bellows, and a fire was as readily made as at the present day.

Back logs were not in much use in bedrooms and parlors after the beginning of this century, turf having taken its place and served equally well, without any loss of space. The stone log in my possession and which belonged to my grandfather, and in use down to within a few years of his death, had a century ago, is at the service of the Boston society if they should think it of sufficient importance. It is not less than 150 years old.—Boston Transcript.

Proof That the Earth Moves.

I was present the other evening at an interesting scientific experiment to prove that the earth moves. It was originally performed in 1851 by Foucault at the Pantheon.

On this occasion it was repeated on the summit of the beautiful Tour Saint Jacques, a landmark known and admired by all visitors to Paris. It was performed by the scientific gentleman having charge of the "Laboratory of Physical Sciences," which was installed last year in the tower. At 8 o'clock in the evening a considerable crowd assembled in the square, and admired the graceful structure which was handsomely illuminated.

From the apex of the tower, thirty-nine meters from the ground, had been fastened between two shafts of platinum a steel wire nine-tenths of a millimetre in thickness. From the end of the wire hung a copper ball weighing twenty-nine kilos, to which was affixed a steel spur. This pendulum was set in motion, and the spectators could see that the steel spur traced on a layer of sand beneath a series of lines, which by their diversity proved that the plane of the pendulum's oscillation was constantly changing—a phenomenon that could not have been produced were the earth absolutely motionless.—Paris Cor. The President has wisely countermanded the order of Sack En-dicoit, directing the return of rebel flags to the different authorities. The move was not justified in law, and President Cleveland promptly

"shut down" on the contemplated move.

The President's Pension Veto.

PRESIDENT Cleveland, in vetoing

the dependent pension bill, did a very wise thing. The present pension laws, coupled with the "Sci-dler Homes," are surely ample to supply all the wants of our soldier-citizens. We believe that nine, out of every ten of our ex-soldiers will take the view of the matter.

The skunkers and hangers on who swindled Uncle Sam on the field of battle are anxious to swindle him again, but the soldiers who fought our battles are made of different material and to them the thought of being a dependant is very repulsive. It is true some of our ex-soldiers, who have never learned the dependant bill and know nothing of its import may have been led into expressing views contrary to our own, but we know

these opinions are formed because of the absence of the facts, for the real soldier is a man of self-reliance and pride.

No doubt demagogues and claim agents will make a great outcry against the President. This is to be expected, but in the end we think every true soldier and citizen will say amen to the independent and manly action of President Cleveland.—Phil. Herald.

AN ANSWER.

Mr. Editor.—In the Minneapolis

Evening Journal for Thursday,

June 9th under the head of the Brick Barons' Grip, there is a misstatement which I wish to take this opportunity to correct. I am responding to Mr. Holmuth's article to do the Mason work on my house and that I failed to carry out my part of the contract. The facts in the case are these; last spring when

I decided to build my house, I consulted several masons as is customary in order to ascertain prices for work. Among those which I consulted was Mr. H. Oestreich. I made no contract with him, and after I decided to employ his brother for business reasons, I informed him of the fact, and he expressed himself as entirely satisfied. There was no intimidation on the part of any one. No brick yard boss visited me to threaten me with the withdrawing of his patronage in case I employed Mr. Oestreich, nor was a single word said to me about work by a brick manufacturer.

The article in question not only entirely misrepresents me, but also those whose patronage I have enjoyed in the past, and hope to enjoy in the future.

In placing me before this community as one who can be bribed or bought off, Mr. Oestreich has done me and others a great injustice. By pursuing such a course as the one adopted by our enthusiastic Knight of Labor, whose zeal outruns his judgment, Mr. Oestreich has not only endeavored to injure those who are interested in the town where they live, but has done himself an irreparable injury,

one that time cannot remove, for

in doing what he did to mis-represents facts, and thereby has placed himself liable to the charge of not caring for the truth. It is barely possible, however, that much of what was written was owing to ignorance and not to maliciousness.

Brazil proposes to give freedom to all slaves within two years.

There were heavy rains in northern Ohio for ten successive days and the papers say enough has fallen to last all summer.

Tennessee votes in September on the question of adopting a prohibition amendment to the constitution. There is already no license except in the large cities.

President Garfield's old private secretary, T. M. Nichol, is attempting to form a company to build a triangle railroad on which forty-six miles wide can make $200 miles an hour.

Philadelphia proposes to expend $50,000 in patriotic processions, banners and fire works on the glorious Fourth. Such a general observance of independence as we are soon to have has not been known in many years.

The Cleveland O. girl who has had an almost brilliant success on the English stage is Miss Adelaide Vetchon, now playing in London after a successful tour of the provinces. She is most cordially praised by the London papers, and her future is assured.

Mrs. George Ward Nichols, of Ohio, took up the pottery craft, when she came over the country, a few years ago, and established the Rockwood factory. She is now a widow, and the pretty decorative craze brings her a pretty income of $200,000 a year.

There is no $75,000,000 estate nor any other estate awaiting the American Sands family in England, and the same may be said of every other family, and yet thousands of dollars are yearly expended to learn this fact, which has been often officially communicated to our government.

Kansas, with a population of something over a million, has 200,000 church members, divided between 132,000 Protestants and 68,000 Catholics. This number is divided into 2,871 church organizations, worshipping in 1,900 edifices. The total value of church property is estimated at nearly $5,000,000.

The Los Angeles (Cal.) press claims a population of 55,000 for that booming city. This claim is based on the new city directory, which contains 12,875 names, mostly those of adult males. Computing on the theory that each name represents a total of four persons, the aggregate is something over 55,000.

The election of Senator Chandler from New Hampshire completes the senate of the Fifty-first congress. The roll standeth: Republicans 39, including Riddleberger, and Democrats 37. California, Ohio and Virginia are the only states whose senators are divided. This is the closest political unity in the senate by states since the war.

It has been popularly held that the highest mountain in the world was Mount Everest in India, the loftiest peak of the Himalayan range, the height of which is set down at 29,002 feet. But intrepid explorers this season assert that Paymoa, or New Guinea, boasts a mountain which they call Mount Hercules, which soars to the tremendous altitude of 32,753 feet.

The New York Times asserts that the failure of electricity to compete in price with gas as a means of private lighting in that city is manifest. It adds there are fewer electric lights used in private dwellings and places of business by at least 25 per cent. now than there were three years ago and yet everybody believes that electricity is to be the light of the future. The trouble now is, that it cannot be cheaply handled.

The Albany Argus concisely states a fact regarding one class sheet has a pertinent application to many others: "The workman who is faithful and earnest in his work and who, by economy and avoidance of evils which are constantly in his path, sees his account in the savings bank grow larger every year, is fifty times more advanced toward his object of abolishing poverty than all the founders of anti-poverty and such quixotic schemes in existence."

The troubles in Roumania, Germany, and Russia have caused a few thousand Jews to emigrate to England, where their labor works in direct contact with English workmen. It is said they compete directly with those engaged as clothiers, bakers, furniture makers, fruit dealers, tailors, and day laborers, and the London papers strenuously insist that parliament must not allow these people to take the bread from the mouths of English workmen, and yet they make not the slightest protest against dumping, and even crimes, on these roads.

Hypnotism—which is the new name for mesmerism—is attracting great attention in Paris, and the following examples are given of the wonderful discovery. Some of the eminent physicians have put a subject under the influence one day, enjoined upon him to commit a theft or a murder at a given hour the next day, and despite every effort of will on the part of the subject, the crimes have been attempted, and the victim only saved from himself by the intervention of the operator, who was present to remove the influence or through the understanding of the party against whom the offense was to be committed, in the form of the robbery actually carried out.

HOME AND COUNTY NEWS.

Good

Growing weather.

Pay the printer before the 4th.

Our columns are crowded with new "ads" this week.

Chaska will celebrate the 4th in grand style, thanks to Peter Illis.

Read the "ad" of R. Hellriegel which appears in this issue, and be on hand June 24 & 25.

St. Bonifacius will celebrate the 4th in grand style. See notice in advertising column. Be sure and attend.

Owing to an unusual amount of job work and advertising we are a little late in going to press this week.

The storm, "rain and wind" on Saturday, prostrated a number of shade trees in our village, otherwise no damage has been reported.

Several of our brick yards have suffered the loss of a good many thousands of brick by the various rain storms the past two weeks. We hope for fair weather now.

Ernst Desemann, has a very sore limb. It was poisoned while out fishing, probably by weeds. We hope it will not prove a serious affair.

Remember Miss Smith and her class, will give a grand musical soiree on Thursday Evening June 20th. The Hall should be packed as her entertainments are unrivalled.

Fred Thomas "laid out" a tramp laborer, that had been boarding at his house for a few weeks, and who insulted his family while he was away. He stayed in the cooler over night and left town next day.

A large number of "old vets" and others of our citizens visited Carver on Friday and Saturday.

The ladies do - A. W. Tiffany, Adjutant - Chas Johnson, Q. M. - A. G. Anderson, Sergt Major - Jerry Elmann.

The boys cheered lustily for the ladies of Carver, the kind hospitality of the citizens, the officers and comrades who had so faithfully taxed their abilities to make the entertainment a complete success, and the re-union was adjourned until we next join hands around the peaceful camp fire.

The attendance of old veterans numbered over 100.

Grand Hotel Opening.

The new Hotel of Adam Mohrbecker, at Cologne, will be formally opened on Saturday evening, June 25th 1887, at which a good band will be present to furnish music for the dancers and entertainment for others present.

The genial proprietor will also get up a good supper for those in attendance and a grand time may be anticipated.

The building is a large two story frame structure, with a large dining hall, and furnished throughout with new furniture and bedding, and is undoubtedly one of the very best stopping places in the county. Terms only $1.00 per day. Card next issue.

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky. says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisis, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. He says he hesitated to believe he would be cured, but it is not long since he was cured by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle at Franken Drug Store.

For Sale!

The undersigned has a house and four lots & stable situated on Beach St, for sale at a bargain for cash. For terms and particulars call on or address.

Peter Zeren, Chaska.

MARRIED.

At Carver June 15th 1887, at the residence of the bride's parents, Miss. Elsie, daughter of Hon. A. G. Anderson, to J. H. Kynaston, of Minneapolis.

Both are well and favorably known here, and the bride has for some time been one of the brightest ornaments in Carver society.

At nine thirty the bridal party filed into the parlors where the ceremony which gave our Senator another son (and deprived Edgar of his sister) was performed by Rev. H. R. Graves of Minneapolis.

The bride who was dressed in cream colored silk, adorned with natural flowers looked very handsome. After partaking of a sumptuous repast, and enjoying the music till a late hour, the guests wended their way homeward, all wishing the young couple an unalloyed journey through life.
